4-H Record Book Information

Important Details

- ✿ Complete 4-H Record Book must include 4-H Personal Development (this section) and sections for each project you have participated in this year
- ✿ Record Books must be received by the 4-H Office by September 30th of the current 4-H year
- ✿ They can be submitted either as a hard copy in a binder, or by uploading your complete electronic record book here as a PDF file 4-H Record Books 2022-23; you must use one or the other method – not a combination!
- ✿ For the Project Section(s) consult your Leaders
- ✿ Youth not submitting an adequately completed 4-H Record Book (appropriate to age and abilities) may not be eligible for re-enrollment the following year
- ✿ Great prizes and certificates for the best Record Books in each project area

Section 1: Personal Development Record (this section)

- ✿ Written by the 4-H Office, this will be used for funding purposes and must be completed as failing to do so jeopardizes the program for all 4-H'ers
- ✿ Provides a summary of your achievements including reports on meetings, 4-H activities, accomplishments, and community service
- ✿ Each youth must complete their 'My 4-H Story' – see below

Section 2: Project Record

- ✿ Designed by each Project Advisory (your Club Leaders) to enable youth to demonstrate project-specific knowledge and learning
 - This section will be checked on an ongoing basis by relevant Club Leaders or designated volunteers
 - Must be up to date by August 1 if 4-H'er wants to exhibit at the Fair

Why Keep Record Books

- ✿ 4-H helps young people succeed in the 'real world' and, by doing Record Books with the support of parents and Leaders, 4-H'ers can:
 - Develop good habits such as keeping up-to-date records
 - Improve literacy skills
 - Showcase achievements
 - Express themselves by creating a 'journal' to reflect on and be proud of
- ✿ 4-H Record Books have a lot of practical uses such as:
 - Supplementing school portfolios when applying for colleges and jobs
 - Serving as proof to 4-H funders that the kids are benefitting and learning from the program
 - Being entered into the Fair and winning end-of year awards

Date	Description	What you learned

My 4-H Story is your personal story that sums up this year in 4-H

Things you MUST write about are:

- Why you enrolled in 4-H this year
- A clear description of what your goals were in each project area
- How and why you achieved your goals, exceeded them, could not meet them, overcame challenges
- Your successes and accomplishments
- Examples of what you learned as a person (life skills) and through your projects (vocational skills)

Things you might include are:

- Funny moments and good memories, and friends you made along the way
- How you helped others through Community Service
- Up to 3 photos or pictures relevant to the story

4-H Story Guidelines

The quality of the story is the most important part. Categories excluding pictures:

- Cloverbuds (5-7 or those with special needs): words/pictures appropriate to abilities
- Junior (9-11) 250 words minimum (approximately 1 page)
- Intermediate (12-14) 400 words minimum (approximately 2 pages)
- Senior (15-19) 600 words minimum (approximately 3 pages)

- Cloverbud stories should be submitted as a hand-written document
- Others can be hand-written or, if typed in Word or Google Docs:
 - Double spaced, 12-point text, serif font such as Times New Roman
- All should use age/ability-appropriate vocabulary, grammar, and spelling

Why Write Your 4-H Story

- Looking back and reflecting helps us evaluate our strengths and limitations, understand ourselves better, appreciate our accomplishments and set goals for the future
- Expressing our thoughts in writing is essential to achieving many other things in life such as a place at college or a job - but it takes practice
- Those who make the 4-H program possible such as our funders want to read your stories - it motivates them to continue to support you

What 4-H Will do with Your Story (with your permission)

- All stories will be read by experienced volunteers/staff and receive feedback
- The three most powerful stories will be chosen from 4 categories:
- The chosen stories will have the honor of being published in the Annual 4-H Success Story Book which will be shared with stakeholders, and on our website
- The winners will receive gift certificates to the 4-H Mall and other goodies
